Attorney for Plaintiff
Joseph Cook (22-07645)

AND CONSOLIDATED CASES.)

1. The court's order provides in pertinent part that all written discovery be exchanged across all cases. (Docket No. 90, 3:17-19.)

(Some of) the parties have pressing obligations under General Order 71 to make initial disclosures. Some of the disclosures required by this Order are of privacy protected personnel and medical matters.

Does the court's recent order require each of the plaintiff employees, and/or permit the City, to disclose this private information to all of the other parties?

1 2. On May 1, 2023, the court issued an amended case
2 management order. In this order, at Page 2, the court bifurcated
3 liability and damages. This means, apparently, that each
4 plaintiff will be subjected to two series of discovery requests,
5 the first concerning liability, and then later, another
6 concerning damages. The undersigned infers that the court
7 anticipates a summary judgment proceeding between the two series.

8 General Order 71 requires a plaintiff employee to disclose
9 substantial information related to his or her damages from a
10 wrongful termination. This includes information about
11 unemployment insurance, subsequent employment, and details about
12 other damages. (Id., pp. 2-3.)

13 Given that "damages" has been bifurcated to an unspecified
14 later date, are the plaintiff employees required at this time, to 15 comply with General Order 71 as it pertains to their damages?

16 Wherefore, Mr. Cook requests that the court clarify its 17 recent order.

18 Dated: July 18, 2023

19 Respectfully submitted,

20 s/ Hugo Torbet
